

CIVIL RIGHTS MOVEMENT

Photo Analysis

- Look at each photo and fill in your chart with your observations
- Three observations for each categories
- Then take the notes at the end of the Powerpoint

Objects:

Activities:

People:

Elizabeth Eckford (born October 4, 1941) is one of the Little Rock Nine, a group of African-American students who, in 1957, were the first black students ever to attend classes at Little Rock Central High School in Little Rock, Arkansas. The integration came as a result of Brown v. Board of Education of Topeka. Elizabeth's public ordeal was captured by press photographers on the morning of September 4, 1957, after she was prevented from entering the school by the Arkansas National Guard. A dramatic snapshot by Johnny Jenkins (UPI) showed the young girl being followed and threatened by an angry white mob; this and other photos of the day's startling events were circulated around the US and the world by the print press.

Objects:

Activities:

People:

Objects:

Activities:

People:

Three students at Clinton High School picketed their school as it became the first state-supported school in Tennessee to integrate, in August 1956.

Objects:

Activities:

People:

Objects:

Activities:

People:

Rather than serve people of color, this Walgreen's lunch-counter closes "in the interests of public safety." Other cafes and lunch-counters call the cops to arrest Blacks for the crime of ordering a cup of coffee in defiance of the segregation laws.

NC and Civil Rights

- Feb 1, 1960 – Greensboro, NC
- Four students sit down at an all white counter to protest

Effects of the Sit in

- Their actions cause sit-ins to occur around the country
- Support for the North Carolina protesters happens around the country

Freedom Rides

- 1960's
- Blacks and whites boarded buses in protest of segregation

Freedom Rides

- Often became violent
- Protesters were removed from the buses

Freedom Riders impact

- Encouraged others to fight for equality

